The CPA Difference

When you hire CPA Tax Center, you can be confident that we have met strict licensing and ethics requirements before receiving our certification — distinguishing us from other businesses and tax stores. As CPAs we must pass a rigorous national exam and meet stringent experience requirements in addition to completing five years of study at a university. To maintain our licenses, we pursue continuing professional education to keep current with the latest business and technical issues.

Commitment

We are committed to the highest standards of our profession and belong to organizations that provide ongoing opportunities for education and training regarding business issues, accounting, taxation, information technology, ethics, and other topics which can assist us in serving our clients.
